

Percentage of Houses which used Cement as their main Wall Materials by Political Districts, 2011

There were 51,240 houses enumerated in the Samoa Population and Housing Census 2011 and out of this number 20 percent or 10,312 houses used cement as their main wall materials. The map above shows the distribution of 10,312 houses which used cement as wall materials by political districts and in percentage. The first colour pink tells that 12 political districts have the highest percentage of houses with cement wall materials from the range of 20 to 34 percent while the last colour yellow shows that 11 political districts have the lowest percentage of houses with cement wall materials from a range of 8 to 14 percent.

Overall out of 10,312 houses with cement wall materials in Samoa, 81 percent or 8,360 houses were located on Upolu island including (Manono and Apolima) while 19 percent or 1,952 houses were in the island of Savaii.

For more information please contact the Samoa Bureau of Statistics at phone: 21373/62000.

